PORT NOT FALLEN RUMOR A CANARD

Tokio Officially Denies That Port Arthur Has Fallen.

A General Assault Was Made—Russians Said to Be Short on Ammunition.

VLADIVOSTOK SHIPS PURSUED

Tokio, July 30.—It is officially announced that the report to the effect that the Japanese had captured Port Arthur is untrue.

GENERAL ASSAULT ON PORT.

Chifu, July 30.—Refugees arriving from Port Arthur confirm the report that a general assault was made on Port Arthur by the Japanese. The refugees further state that the Russians are growing short on guns and ammunition. An attempt was made to manufacture ammunition but proved a failure. A Japanese cruiser and gunboat are reported to have been sunk while placing mines.

JAPANESE ADVANCE.

Hai Cheng, July 30.—The Japanese have resumed their advance and made an attack on the Russian right flank Friday under cover, which the Japanese infantry pushed along the line of the railway. The advance was temporarily checked at 11 o'clock but again continued in the afternoon.

GAN SINK SHIPS.

St. Petersburg, July 30.—The Novoe Vremya has a dispatch from Vladivostok which asserts that the Russian fleet has every right to sink foreign ships carrying contraband.

JAPANESE GIVE CHASE.

Tokio, July 30.—A telegram from Oshima states that the Russian Vladavostok cruisers were discovered off Ien this morning. Shortly afterward four Japanese warships were seen chasing the Russian cruisers to the southward. The vessels were then about fourteen miles distant. Three other Japanese warships are known to be but forty miles from Oshima. A dispatch received later in the day states that the Vladivostok squadron was seen east of the entrance to Tan-garrat Straits, but nothing has been seen of the Japanese warship pursuing them.

ENGLISH SHIPS AT BEIRUT

London, July 30.—Your correspondent wires that the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry del Val, has just seen the Pope and informed him that France has broken off diplomatic relations, and the papal nuncio has been ordered to leave Paris.
The Pope exclaimed: "God's will be done. We did everything in our power to avert it."

HATTLESIPS ARRIVE.

Beirut, Syria, July 30.—Four British battleships and a cruiser arrived

THE POLICE KNEW THERE WAS A PLOT

Were Trying to Apprehend the Conspirators.

A Bomb Dropped in the Canal Was Recovered—Impressive Requiem Over Plot.

EMPEROR TO ATTEND FUNERAL

St. Petersburg, July 30.—The police have not as yet established the identity of the assassin of M. von Plehwe of his accomplices, though it has been ascertained that the former is a Lituanian, which accounts for his noticeable accent. The accomplice is a Jew.

It has developed that the police for some time past have been aware that a plot was maturing against the emperor. Several arrests were actually made, and the police had the assassin's house marked and a trap set for his arrest on the night of July 14, but he did not return home.

The bomb which the accomplice dropped in the canal after the assassination has been recovered by the police. It is a foreign-made, loaded in St. Petersburg, and is melon shaped, and is believed to be fully as powerful as the one that killed von Plehwe.
The requiem service at M. von Plehwe's house last night was most impressive. The emperor was not present at the requiem but he will attend the funeral Sunday afternoon.

WITTI DENIES.

Vienna, July 30.—Witti, president of the Russian council of ministers denied today that he would succeed Plehwe as minister of the interior.

AN ANTI-RUSSIAN

DEMONSTRATION.
Rome, July 30.—A small anti-Russian demonstration was made here today by a body of students and five were arrested.

NO COUNTY PRIMARY UNTIL NEXT YEAR

Democratic County Committee
Meets at Court House.

After a Wrangle Over an Hour
the Primary Was Postponed Until 1905.

23 COMMITTEEMEN THERE

The Democratic County Committee met at the court house this afternoon pursuant to a call of the chairman, to take some action relative to a county Democratic primary.

Twenty-three committeemen were present or represented, and County Clerk Graham read a petition from 23 or more candidates and prospective candidates asking that a primary be called for November 3, next.

There was a great deal of wrangling followed, some speaking for and others against it.

At 3:15 the question of holding a primary this year or next was put to a vote and by a vote of 15 to 9 it was decided to not hold the primary this year.

The date of it will be fixed by the new committee some time in the future.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY

DEATH OF FATHER AND MOTH-ER WITNESSED BY BOY.

Kansas City, July 30.—Julius Kent shot and killed his wife today and then killed himself. His five-year-old son witnessed the tragedy. Mrs.
Kent's devotion to a Women's Club is the alleged cause of the crime.

Dr. J. Q. Taylor went up the Lon-gsville division of the I. O. today.

CITY CAN'T LOAN THE $200,000 CASH

It Will Have to Remain in City Depository Until Used.

It Is Now Becoming Evident How Costly the Delay Is—A Controversy Is Prospected.

OTHER MUNICIPAL MATTERS

There has been considerable talk in official circles today about loaning the $200,000 to be secured for city bonds next week, since it has become evident that the city is going to do nothing towards beginning work this year. Last night the joint finance committee of the general council and the mayor, to whom the matter was referred, decided to recommend that the money be distributed among four local banks until it can be used. It is understood four banks have offered to take it at 3 per cent.

Despite this action, or any action that the boards may take at their meetings next week, however, the money will in all probability not be loaned to the banks in Paducah, nor to the banks in any other city, for the simple reason that it cannot be legally loaned by the city. The city has no authority, it is claimed, to loan any money except a sinking fund to pay off bonds. It has no right to borrow money and then turn around and loan it at a less per cent, or any other per cent.

City Treasurer John Dorian has had nothing to say during the deliberative sessions of the city officials who have been meeting to settle the question of how to loan out the money to the best advantage. He may have something to say later on, however.

It is understood that the city treasurer will ask his attorneys for legal advice, and if he is advised that the $200,000 are funds that properly pass through his hands, he will insist on taking charge of them and seeing that they are kept safe until such time as the present administration, which has already wasted nearly a year, wakes up and gets ready to use the money. Treasurer Dorian this morning, when approached about his attitude in the matter, stated that it was not up to him. That he would wait and see what was going to be done, and then be guided by the law and the advice of his attorneys.

It is stated by some of Treasurer Dorian's friends, however, that he will insist on his rights. If the $200,- 000 are funds that go into the city treasury he will see that they are placed there. If the city has no use for the money now, and can not legally collect interest on it, this is not regarded as Treasurer Dorian's fault, but of the officials responsible for the inexcusable delay and the fact that the money has not been used long ago.

Said a close friend of Treasurer Dorian today: "Mr. Dorian was elected treasurer, and gave a large bond for the faithful performance of the duties. These duties are clearly laid down in the charter, and he must abide by them. If his duties require him to handle this fund, he will doubtless take the necessary steps to handle it, should any steps become necessary. If the city elects to have $200,000 lie idle in the city treasury for six or eight months, it is not his fault, and if it cannot legally collect interest on it, that is not his fault, either. He will follow the law, and do his duty as outlined by the law."

A great deal of interest is being taken in the outcome. While the city officials are trying to keep the city from losing the interest paid at the rate of $8,000 a year because these same officials have been so stupid and slow, many attorneys and others are smiling at the prospect of what they will say when they learn the city can not legally loan out the money.

pleted a list of the property owners of West Broadway along whose sidewalks are proposed, and of the number of feet they own. This will be

MORE PEACEFUL OUTLOOK TODAY

Four Hundred Men Distributed
Today at Chicago.

No Disturbances of Any Kind—Both Sides Are Confident of Victory.

UNIONS HELP KEEP PEACE

Chicago, July 30.—Four hundred non-union men, three hundred of whom were colored, were distributed among the packing houses today without disturbance. The situation in the yards is comparatively peaceful.
The meeting between the strike leaders and the Union Transit Co. officials in regard to the stockholders' position resulted in nothing. An attempt is being made to have the allied trades council endorse the appeal to the president to intervene.

PEACE AT KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, July 30.—The packing house employees in going to work this morning were not molested. Complete peace reigned throughout the district. Officers of the union exerted themselves to prevent violence.

CONFER WITH PRESIDENT.

Washington, July 30.—President Roosevelt had a conference over the beef strike and Illinois political matters today with Senators Cullum and Hepburn.

PACKERS CALM.

Chicago, July 30.—Negotiations have not been reopened by either side and nothing has been done toward a peaceful settlement of the hatters' strike.
The leaders express the belief that they will win ultimately. The packers declare they will continue their present policy and will soon not need the strikers' back.

Samuel H. Cordell, an insurance agent, of Dallas, Texas, shot and submitted to the boards, and they will decide which plan will be cheaper, to condemn the property and build the sidewalks or to accept the proposition of those who refuse to dedicate their property for a sidewalk, and get it free by paying half the cost of the sidewalk. It will be a difficult matter to decide which would be cheaper, as it is impossible to determine what value the appraiser would put on the property in case the city condemned it.

The question of building a fill near Twelfth and Caldwell streets is no nearer a settlement than it was at first. The board of public works first recommended it to the general council several weeks ago. The two boards conferred and it was referred to the city engineer, who gave estimates of the cost. These were reported and the matter was then referred by the general council back to the board of public works. The latter not having the money referred to the mayor, and the mayor, in order to get the funds, has in turn referred it to the Illinois Central railroad and the street railroad company to ascertain if they will not pay a portion of the cost. It is not stated to whom the question will be referred next, but this is a fair sample of how the present administration does business.

Mayor Yeiser, who was invited by President Kleybolte, of the Western German Bank, Cincinnati, to come to that city and bring back the $200,000 with him has declined to go, and instead has written a letter to the president thanking him for the honor of the invitation and in turn inviting him to come to Paducah at the expense of the city and bring the money with him. The letter will be forwarded immediately and a reply is expected by Monday or Tuesday.
It is thought the president can be prevailed on to come and his visit would, favorably impress him with the progress of Paducah.

THE SHOP MEN WANT A REPRESENTATIVE

Ask That One of Them be Placed on Hospital Board.

They Have no Fault to Find With the Management But Desire Representation.

A COMMITTEE WAS APPOINTED

The men employed in the Illinois Central shops here want representation in the hospital association and will request it at the first opportunity, which will be at the next hospital board meeting, or probably sooner if the trades council decides that a communication to the higher officials at Chicago is advisable.

The tradesmen employed in the local shops are big factors in the maintenance of the hospital, and claim they are not allowed representation or voice in the management of the hospital. The matter of demanding a representation has been under consideration for several months, but nothing definite done until a committee from each trades union was appointed to confer with the association members of the higher officials. Here is what one of the committeemen says about the matter:

"We want a representation on the hospital board because we feel we are the principal mainstay of the hospital.
The hospital was built especially for the employees of the road, and is maintained by them by monthly assessment made in proportion to the salary received, and should be run by the employees. Employees receiving under $10 a month pay 40 cents monthly to the hospital fund. Under $75, 60 cents a month is paid, and over $75 a fee of $1 is paid. It is true that the track employees contribute largely to the fund but we shop men undoubtedly pay as much and a little more than any other department of the road and think we are justly entitled to representation.

"We do not desire to be understood as finding fault with the management of the hospital, but will simply ask that we have some one appointed on the hospital board."

The association board is now composed of the division superintendent, roadmaster, assistant superintendent, master mechanic, one engineer, and one conductor, and one or two higher officials from the southern lines.

The railroad men say that the company has let out from the association Engineer McGuire and Conductor John Whedon, leaving the management of the hospital in the hands of the railroad officials entirely, and this seems to have caused the action taken by the trades council which will demand a new board.

The shop men want the board to consist of eleven men, three company men and eight shop tradesmen. They state that if the company refuses to grant this the shop men and other employees who have entered into the agreement, will discontinue paying fees for the hospital support and let the courts settle whether the shop men are entitled to representation or not.

The employees claim the hospital property was bought by fees paid by the employees.
The committee has asked for a conference but no return has been made by the railroad company. The matter is causing much agitation in railroad circles and the outcome is watched with unusual interest.

TWO SHOT

Altoona, Pa., July 30.—P. E.
Campbell, paymaster of the Paritan Coal and Mining Company, and Charles Hayes, were held up on the public road this morning, shot twenty-five times and robbed of three thousand dollars which they were taking to Paritan to pay the miners. The highwaymen escaped. Both Campbell and Hayes may die.

A DEMENTED MAN ARRESTED TODAY

Was Found Under a House Near the I. C. Depot.

He Had to Be Pulled Out—Says
He Is a Government Defective.

HE TELLS A RAMBLING STORY

Clifford Center, "sometimes spelled Senter," he explained to the police, is the name of a man arrested this morning between the hours of 3 and 4 o'clock by Officers Hessian and Hin-ley near the I. C. passenger depot.
Center seems to be demented, as he gave several contradictory accounts of himself and acted not unlike a wild man when taken into custody.

This morning the officers were at the depot waiting for the trains. Officer Hessian passed into the general waiting room and as he did Center, who was seated on one of the benches, arose and hustled him away to a nearby saloon. He knocked on the side door and was admitted. Officer Hinley was near and heard the man say, "give me air," and following was a deafening crash as the stranger ran through the rear door. The officers gave chase and found Center under the small wooden house adjoining the saloon. They had to procure lanterns and crawl under after him before he could be taken into custody.

It later developed that Center had been on West Kentucky avenue acting very wild. It is said he gave away a watch to a woman and later gave two rings to another woman. He created a disturbance in front of one house and threw a bottle at one of the women.

Center claimed to be a news reporter and also a U. S. detective, and so informed the police when they arrested him. He was accompanied last night in his expedition over Kentucky avenue, by a companion.

This morning Center, who has been living here for some time and who is a harness maker was held pending an investigation. He will be examined by a doctor to test his mind and see if he is demented.

Rock-a-Bye Baby

These are sweet words, but how much pain and suffering they would mean, if it were not for the fact that the friend has become known as the friend of mothers. Mother's Friend is a liniment to be applied externally. It is rubbed thoroughly into the muscles of the abdomen. It gives elasticity and strength, and when the final great strain comes they respond quickly and easily without pain. Mother's Friend is never taken internally. Internal remedies at this time do more harm than good. If a woman is supplied with this splendid liniment she need never fear rising or swelling breasts, morning sickness, or any of the discomforts which usually accompany pregnancy.

The proprietor of a large hotel in Tampa, Fla., writes: "My wife had an awful time with her first child. During her second pregnancy, Mother's Friend was used and the baby was born easily before the doctor arrived. It's certainly great."

VERY ROMANTIC

SOMETHING OF PADUCAH'S NEW SHORT STOP.

Pelpho, the fast Hopkinsville shortstop, who was traded to Paducah for Gilligan and Meyers, is a ball player of much ability and has found a very good position because of his love for the national game.

Pelpho was working as lumber inspector for a big Louisville concern last year, a position he held for some time, and when his vacation time rolled around his employers told him he could have a month or two off but not to play baseball. Pelpho was in Cairo when the team of that city was crippled by the jumping of Hughes and Wallace, and the lumber man went in to help them out. He first played first base and later went to the field and acted as captain of the team, a position he held until the season closed. Pelpho batted well and fielded up to his standard of hitting and was considered Cairo's strongest man.

After the season closed he returned to Louisville but Sullivan, the assumed name Pelpho played under, had become well known in Louisville and his employers refused to take him back. Now Pelpho plays ball for a livelihood in the summer. His work here with the Lunatics last trip was sensational and he is as fast as any outfielder in the league.

BASEBALL PLAYERS AND FOOT RACERS!

Vincennes at Clarksville.

Seven hits backed by perfect fielding, turned the trick for Cairo yesterday, and the Tadpoles walked off the Wallace park grounds with the fourth straight victory. The grand stand was packed and there was obvious disappointment.

Paducah was unable to hit, and in this fact rests the whole cause of the Indians' downfall to the Tadpoles. The Tadpoles were there with the goods at striking, in which Hughes had the better of the argument with his team mates, and the only one of the Indians to secure even a hit off Orangle was McGill. Paducah did just as good fielding as Cairo but failed to back it up with hitting, and consequently kept on down the toboggan.

Barlow let a ground hit go through him and made the only error for Paducah while Harvey for Cairo let a foul fly get away from him, making their only error.

There was dissatisfaction over the umpire on both sides. Cairo players admitted he was young and did not know a strike when he saw it, but Paducah was fairly and squarely beaten, nevertheless.

AMATEUR GAMES.

The Sterling team will go to Bardonia tomorrow to play the team of that place.

Princeton is baseball crazy and is playing ball nearly as regularly as the league cities. Every Sunday, without fail, a game is played, and Princeton visitors in Paducah always attend the league games here and are enthusiastic rooters for the Indians.

Tomorrow morning at Wallace park the Redmon Union and the L. A. L. teams will meet in the first match game between these teams this season. The Redmon Union are strong and will give the amateur champions a good fight. Plamlee and Brabio will be the battery for the Union and Dingoid and Hays for the L. A. L.

NOTES.

Barlow and Werneck made sensational catches yesterday. There work was excellent and also was the work of the infield. Although Paducah was defeated, the victory was well earned and a prouder game was never witnessed on the Paducah diamond.

Hughes got three out of three times up, two being doubles. He seems to be getting his batting eye back, and on Freeman, too—just think of it!

Bittruff got two hits yesterday, the first he has got in more than a dozen games. It is said. His hitting brought in three of the scores for Cairo.

Paducah has played better ball than Cairo played yesterday, but she didn't do it yesterday. The visitors were there with the goods.

It's too bad that Violet should be lost in the shuffle this late in the season. He had played with Paducah all but about six games this year, and his fielding average is third to the best in the K. I. T. In fact, although there are two given in the recent table at 1.000, neither played long. Beddinger, one of them, playing but a few games as first baseman for Vincennes, and Powers only recently joining Clarksville, and Violet's average is really the best. Violet is also one of the teams best hitters. It's true he was not batting at any .400 clip, but neither are any of the others. Still the team needs strengthening, and Vincennes is said to be after a pitcher in the Philadelphia Athletics. Will French, who umpired at yesterday's game at Wallace Park, has been appointed to succeed Shuster who has gone to Johnston, Pa. French is said to possess nerve and grit, an essential quality in umpiring.

Cairo newspapers like Shuster. He gave Cairo the best of the deal. Shuster claims he will umpire in the New York State League.

Dick Brabio will this afternoon pitch and will be caught by his brother, Eddie Brabio, Grover Land going to first for the day only. McGill will work in the field as usual.

Tomorrow Brady will get another show at the Tadpoles and if the team hits behind the plucky little pitcher, will surely win.

Winter will do the slab work for Cairo this afternoon.

INCITING THE

AMERICAN PEOPLE.

A Democratic contemporary complains because the Republican party claims the credit for Cuban independence, and asserts: "A candidate accepting a nomination can well afford to take up a fairer and genuinely bold position by acknowledging the Democrats did something. In inciting the American people toward a determination to redress grievances in that island."

It is readily admitted that the Democrats "did something in inciting the American people" in the Spanish-American trouble. Their orators ranted and their press oajled, threatened and boasted. President McKinley was firm and patient, and was doing all he could to ward off a conflict, and might have settled everything peacefully had not these same Democratic demagogues kept up their "inciting" everywhere, and demanding war.

Then after war came, the Democrats and their press flopped. They found fault with the war everything was run, stirred up an "embellished" scandal, kicked at the necessary war taxes, blamed the government for sending the Philippines and Porto Rico in the final settlement, and accused the Republicans of trying to steal Cuba.

They still have a legacy their "imperialism," whatever it is, and are today demanding that we give the Philippines their independence, which would mean to allow a lot of semi-civilized people to try to govern themselves, when all the government they know anything about is the government by hole and machete.

The Democratic inconsistencies growing out of their "inciting the American people," and their subsequent position on everything relating to the lamentable conflict and its unavoidable consequences would make enough volumes to fill a large portion of the Carnegie library. Incidentally speaking, about all the Democrats have ever done was to "incite" the American people. They are trying to do it now.

CAR HIT WAGON

THE DRIVER BUSY COUNTING MONEY AND PAID NO ATTENTION TO CAR.

A delivery wagon of the Paducah Bottling Company in charge of Driver S. W. White was struck by street car No. 101 on the last bridge going out Caldwell street near the Illinois Central depot about 12:40 and partially demolished.

The driver was going slowly towards town. He had the lines between his knees and was busy counting money and did not hear the coming car. The motorman thought he would get off the track and did not slow up until he saw that the driver was not conscious of his approach.

The wagon was struck and the singletree and two wheels badly smashed. Bottles were broken and the driver's money scattered about. The car was in charge of Motorman Syd Childress and he claims he rang his bell violently.

A NEW STUNT

MISCREANT DEVOTES HIS ENERGIES TO WRECKING NEWS PAPER OFFICE.

Last night some one tried to wreck the News Democrat editorial rooms which are on the second floor of the building.

This morning when the staff men opened the rooms a most confusing sight met their gaze. The tables were turned upside down and electric light wires were cut in two and papers and files scattered all over the floor.

Editor Harlow left the office at 11 o'clock last night and whoever committed the vandalism did it after that hour. The matter has been placed in the hands of the police for investigation.

PADUCAH MANAGEMENT SAYS IT WILL HAVE THE PENNANT, TOO.

The members of the Paducah Baseball team were paid off today, and the salaries of five members were voluntarily raised by the management, which incidentally announced that Paducah was going to win the pennant if the highest priced men in the business had to be hired.

It is likely that in a few days the fans will have the pleasure of seeing the Indians winning everything.

She Was Taking No Chances to Duplicate

SHE had been suffering for several days with a slight illness, and when she decided to have it lance her young husband accompanied her to the physician's.

"You are very brave, dearest," he said to her as they waited for the doctor in the reception room.

"Oh," said she smiling sweetly, "you see, I'm going to take chloroform or gas or something."

"No! Oh, no!" he remonstrated. "You mustn't!"

"Why, Jack, it won't cost so much more."

"Hark! how kind! But, you know, sometimes patients die under chloroform."

"I'll risk that. Ah, doctor, my husband is trying to scare me with tales about patients who die under chloroform. Now, you don't think?"

"Ishaw! There's no danger when the doctor understands his patient's condition," exclaimed the physician, and a few moments later:

"Will you kindly take hold of this sponge? By the way, just before you came in I was administering the drug to a man, and he was honestly quite amusing. He rattled on about his early love affairs; gave himself away in great shape."

"Huh!" cried the young woman in evident distress, then, collecting herself, "Will it hurt dreadfully, doctor?"

"The lancet? No, with the drug you won't be any the wiser."

"I think I can manage without any drug, do you know?"

"You might faint, dearest," put in the anxious husband. "And doctor says there's no danger in your case. You'd better take it."

"No, I think not," said she, throwing the sponge away and sitting bolt upright. "I'm going to show you men how a weak little woman can bear pain!"—New York Press.

Hospitality.

While two ministers were visiting members of their flocks in the outskirts of Germantown last fall they came across an old German woman, who was just in the act of removing a large quantity of butter from a churn.

"Ah," exclaimed one of them in eager anticipation, "we are just in time for some nice fresh butter-milk!"

"Wait till I get some glasses," replied the old woman as she disappeared into the house. "Drink all you want," she continued as she filled the glasses.

"Why, how good it is!" remarked one of the clergymen.

"You are very kind indeed," said the other. "How can we thank you?"

"Oh, that's all right. Just drink it all. We always give it to the pigs my way!"—Philadelphia Press.

FOR THIRTY YEARS

Congressman Meekison Suffered With Catarrh---Read His Endorsement of Pe-ru-na.

CONGRESSMAN MEKISON, OF OHIO.

Hon. David Meekison is well known, not only in his own State but throughout America. He began his political career by serving four consecutive terms as Mayor of the town in which he lives, during which time he became widely known as the founder of the Meekison Bank of Napoleon, Ohio. He was elected to the Fifty-fifth Congress by a very large majority, and is the acknowledged leader of his party in his section of the State.

Only one flaw marred the otherwise complete success of this rising statesman. Catarrh with its insidious approach and tenacious grasp, was his only unquenched foe. For thirty years he waged unsuccessful warfare against this personal enemy. At last Peru-na came to the rescue, and he dictated the following letter to Dr. Hartman as the result:

"I have used several bottles of Peru-na and I feel greatly benefited thereby from my catarrh of the head. I feel encouraged to believe that if I use it a short time longer I will be fully able to eradicate the disease of thirty years' standing."—David Meekison, ex-Member of Congress.

Over fifty members of Congress endorse Peru-na as a catarrhal tonic. Men of the world over praise Peru-na.

A TONIC is a medicine that gives tone to some part of the system. There are different kinds of tonics, but the tonic most needed in this country, where catarrh is so prevalent, is a tonic that operates on the mucous membranes. Peru-na is a tonic to the mucous membranes of the whole body. It gives tone to the capillary circulation which constitutes these delicate membranes.

Peru-na is a specific in its operation upon the mucous membrane. It is a tonic that strikes at the root of all catarrhal affections. It gives tone to the minute blood vessels and the terminal nerve fibres. Catarrh cannot exist long where Peru-na is used intelligently. Peru-na seeks out catarrh in all the hidden parts of the body.

A. M. Ikard, an employee of the U. S. A. & T. Co., West Hurlington, Ia., writes: "I had catarrh of the stomach and small intestines for a number of years. I went to a number of doctors and got no relief. Finally one of my doctors sent me to Chicago and I met the same fate. They said they could do nothing for me, that I had cancer of the stomach and there was no cure. I almost thought the same, for my breath was something awful. I could hardly stand it, it was so offensive. I could not eat anything without great misery, and I gradually grew worse."

"Finally I got one of your books, and concluded I would try Peru-na, and thank God, I found a relief and a cure for that dreadful disease. I took five bottles of Peru-na and two of Manalin, and I now feel like a new man. There is nothing better than Peru-na, and I keep a bottle in my house all the time."—A. M. Ikard, Catarrh of the stomach is usually called dyspepsia. Catarrhal dyspepsia cannot be cured by peppin powders or any other temporary relief. The only cure for real dyspepsia is a removal of the catarrh from the mucous membrane of the stomach. This Peru-na will do. This Peru-na has done thousands and thousands of times.

Congressman Harkin, of Kansas, was cured of catarrh of the stomach of many years' standing. Hundreds of other cases have been reported to us through unsolicited testimonials. Peru-na is the only internal systemic remedy for catarrh yet devised. Every one afflicted with catarrh in the slightest degree ought to take a course of Peru-na.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

ROUNDS 'EM OUT

FOOD TO PUT THE FLESH ON.

Three years experience with one food is a severe test.

What it can do when that food is the proper food, Grape-Nuts, is proved by the statement of a Mass. woman who says:

"Up to three years ago I had sick headaches every week and although I had heard and read about how food affected one I never thought that could have anything to do with my trouble until one day a friend came to and found me suffering from a frightful headache and suggested that it might be the food, telling me I should change my food for breakfast at least."

"Breakfast," I said, "why I never have any appetite for breakfast, there's nothing I would relish." She said, "Did you ever try Grape-Nuts? We use them every morning and find them just what we relish and we know our health is better since we have eaten them."

"This was news to me but I am not too dull to learn a thing so that very day I got two packages and ate only Grape-Nuts and cream for two weeks at breakfast and became so fond of them I soon found myself eating them for supper also. The result was my headaches lessened quickly and finally disappeared and for the past two years I have only had a couple and I have gained about 30 pounds in weight. I can't get along without my Grape-Nuts and cream for breakfast at least."

"My husband is just as fond of the food as I am, too, and he makes his entire breakfast on it and today I looked over our old grocery orders just for fun and found we have used 532 packages of Grape-Nuts food since we began eating it three years ago. My husband's health has improved wonderfully for he used to be a frail little man as white as a ghost but now he has fine appetite, good color and has rounded out in flesh nicely."

"I forgot to mention I had treatment from six different physicians for the headaches before I began on Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The Blazed Trail

By STEWART EDWARD WHITE

Copyright, 1902, by Stewart Edward White

Before daylight Injun Charley drifted into camp to find Thorpe already out. With a cut and the Indian sent out himself by the fire and, producing a square plug of tobacco and a knife, began leisurely to fill his pipe. Finally Injun Charley spoke in the red man's clear cut, idiomatic English, a pause between each sentence.

"I find trail three men," said he. "Both dead, three men. One man go down river. Those men have cork boat. One man no have cork boat. He lost."

"The Indian suddenly threw his chin out, his head back and half closed his eyes in a cynical squint. As by a flash of light, the sealer, beamed insolently from behind the Indian's stolid mask.

"How do you know?" said Thorpe. For answer the Indian threw his shoulders forward in Thorpe's nervous fashion.

"He make trail big by the toe, light by the heel. He make trail big on side."

Charley arose and walked after Thorpe's spring fashion, illustrating his point by the soft, wadded sides of the immediate forest.

Thorpe looked doubtful. "I believe you are right, Charley," said he. "But it is mighty little to go on. You can't be sure."

"I sure," replied Charley. He puffed strongly at the head of his smoke, then arose and without farewell disappeared in the forest.

Then began the wonderful struggle against circumstances which has become a legend among river men every where. A forty day drive had to go on in ten. A freight had to float on a hundred feet of logs. It was tremendous. Sometimes, sixteen, sometimes eighteen hours a day the men of the driving crew worked like demons. There was no chance to form, of course under the pressure the lower dam had gone out. Nothing was to be depended on but sheer dogged grit. For up river Sadler & Smith had left their drive for the season, and so had resigned themselves to a definite but not extraordinary loss. Thorpe had at least a clear river.

Without a transporter could not under stand how human flesh and blood endured. The men themselves had long since reached the point of practical exhaustion but were carried through by the fire of their leader. Work was dogged until he stormed into sight; then it became frenzied. When he looked at a man from his cavernous, burning eyes, that man jumped.

Impossibilities were puffed aside like tidbits. The men went at them head long. They gave way before the rush Thorpe always led. Not for a single instant of the day nor for many at night was he at rest. Instinctively he seemed to realize that a let down would mean collapse.

After the camp had fallen asleep he would often be awake half of the few hours of their night, every muscle tense, staring at the sky. His mind saw definitely every detail of the situation as he had viewed it. In advance his imagination stooped and awaited to the work which his body was to accomplish the next morning. Thus he did everything twice. Then at last the tension would relax. He would fall into uneasy sleep. But twice that did not follow. Through the dissolving fog mist of his striving a sharp thought cleaved like an arrow. It was that, after all, he did not care. Such consciousness, the other influence, was growing like a weed. Perhaps there were greater things than to succeed, greater things than success. And then the keen, poignant memory of the dream girl stole into the young man's mind and in agony was immediately thrust forth. He would not think of her. He had given her up. He refused to believe that he had been wrong. In the still darkness of the night he would rise and steal to the edge of the dully roaring stream. There, his eyes blinded and his throat choked with a longing more mummy than tears, he would reach out and smooth the round rough cuts of the great logs.

"We'll do it," he whispered to them and to himself. "We'll do it. We can't be wrong."

CHAPTER XXX.
WALLACE CARPENTER'S search expedition had proved a failure, as Thorpe had foreseen, but at the end of the week, when the water began to recede, they came upon a mass of flesh and bones. The man was unrecognizable. The remains were wrapped in canvas and sent for interment to the cemetery at Marquette. Three of the others were never found. The last did not come to light until after the drive had quite finished.

Down at the bottom the jam crew received the drive as fast as it came down. From one crib to another across the broad extent of the river's mouth heavy beams were chained end to end effectively to close the exit to Lake Superior. Against those logs current softly in the slackened current and stopped. The crisis was very heavy, with slanting instead of square tops, in order that the pressure might be downward instead of sideways. In a short time the surface of the logjam was covered by a brown carpet of logs running in strange patterns like wind-rows of fallen grain. The drive was all lost over.

"I'll tell you the weather had been clear, but oppressively hot for this time of year. The heat had come suddenly and maintained itself well. The men had worked for the most part in undershirts. They were as much in the water as out of it, for the log both had become almost grateful. Hamilton, the journalist, who had attached himself definitely to the drive, distributed bunches of papers, in which the men read that the miserable conditions prevailed all over the country.

At length, however, it gave signs of breaking. The sky, which had been of a steel blue, gathered great piled thunder heads. Toward evening the thunder heads shifted and finally dissipated. In the sure, but the portent was there.

"I am a changed, Jack," said he. Hamilton's papers began to tell of washouts and shambles in the south and west. The men wished they had some of that water here.

So finally the drive approached its end and all concerned began in anticipation to taste the weakness that awaited them. The few remaining tasks still confronting them all at once seemed more formidable than what they had accomplished. The work for the first time became dogged, distasteful. Even Thorpe was infected. He too wanted more than anything else to drop on the bed in Mrs. Hallaway's boarding house. There remained but a few things to do. A mile of sacking would carry the drive beyond the influence of fresh water. After that there would be no hurry.

He looked round at the hard, fatigued worn faces of the men about him, and he suddenly felt a great rush of affection for these comrades who had so unreservedly spent themselves for his of late. Their features showed exhaustion. It is true, but their eyes gleamed still with the steady, half humorous purpose of the pioneer. When they caught his glance they grinned good humoredly.

All at once Thorpe turned and started for the bunk.

"That'll do, boys," he said quietly to the nearest group. "She's down."

It was noon. The sackers looked up in surprise. Behind them, to their very feet, rushed the soft smooth slope of a blond, pea-fall river. The drive had passed its last obstruction. To all in (TO BE CONTINUED.)

MY TITIAN HAIR

"Dear old Mrs. Turnlee! She was always trying to do something for me, always laying plans for my future. When I was left a penniless orphan at sixteen she took me to her home and treated me as a daughter. She was influenced in this by the absence of her only child, a young man of twenty, who had just departed for a three years' course at a German university. She grew so fond of me that she conceived the idea of marrying me to her son, who would inherit her property. His likeness was in every room in the house, and they were by no means unattractive.

When Adelbert Turnlee left Germany for home, I had just recovered from a fever, during which my head had been shaved, leaving it as smooth as a billiard ball, and at the time of his return my hair was about the length of that on a mouse's back. I thought I looked very plump, but Mrs. Turnlee was greatly distressed. "How unfortunate," she exclaimed. "I know this temporary defect will turn out against you. He is artistic in his taste and readily influenced by beauty or defect. If your beautiful golden hair were its full length it alone might win him. What a pity! What a pity!"

The dear old lady was so disappointed that I set my wits to work to supply the deficiency.

"What do you say to a wig?" I asked.

"The very thing," she replied. But she was in a quandary as to her son's favorite color for hair. He had expressed himself as averse either to black or blond or red, she couldn't remember which. But she found something he had written wherein occurred the words "beautiful Titian hair," and she concluded that the wig should be that color. The one she selected I thought to be too near a red, but as the hair merchant declared that it was true "Titian" Mrs. Turnlee was convinced and paid an exorbitant price for it.

Up to the time of the arrival of the expected victim I had taken little or no thought as to my own part in it, yielding to Mrs. Turnlee as I would humor a child in getting up a charade, but when I came to play the role of a husband my mind was much troubled.

When Mrs. Turnlee was present I succeeded in treating Adelbert fairly well, but when she was absent my demeanor at once became reserved. However, this did not seem to be of much consequence, for, though he seemed to enjoy chatting with me, I could not discover the slightest indication of a loverlike emotion. To tell the truth, I was at a disadvantage under my wig. I often caught Adelbert looking at it with a singular expression and suspected that he knew I wore a mask on my head. He this as it may, a month passed, during which I was convinced that as a "thing of beauty" I was not "a joy forever" to Adelbert Turnlee. But we became excellent friends, and when we parted he declared that he would miss my companionship very much. I took the polite speech for what I considered it worth and made one equally polite.

He returned to Europe to fit himself for a professorship and was gone two years. Meanwhile my own luxuriant locks had grown to their full length, and as I stood combing them before the glass I confess I thought them very pretty. If they could only be a "Titian" and I could meet Mr. Turnlee again, not feeling that I was trying to make a dup of him, perhaps his mother might have her wish. I was quite sure he would not care for the pale shade of my natural hair, so much less pronounced than that of my castoff wig.

The day he came, his mother was very ill, and I had called for him. I did not expect him for several days after the day on which he arrived. I was holding his mother in my arms when the door opened, and he came hurriedly into the room. He cast an anxious glance at her, but it was impossible for him to keep his gaze fixed on her, and he turned, for he had evidently been caught by my flaxen hair.

"What is the name of?" He stopped short and after kissing his mother affectionately asked a multitude of questions concerning her. When he had learned that she was convalescent and would soon be well he breathed a sigh of relief. Then he looked again at my hair. I explained the occasion of my having been obliged to don a wig to conceal my shaved pate.

"If you had chosen any color," he said, "except that frightful red I should have detected that which I now see so plainly. I detect red hair."

"What do you see plainly?" asked Mrs. Turnlee.

"Mother, you force me to speak too plainly. Now that your beloved is free from that indes tituted wig she is a very pretty girl."

"Hides tinted!" said the old lady feebly. "I thought it was 'Titian'."

"I confess," Adelbert went on to me, "to an almost prejudice I conceived for you on account of your hair. I noticed and admired you for those traits that endeared you to my mother, your unselfishness, your tact, your natural amiability, besides appreciating your intellectual gifts. But I could never feel drawn toward a redheaded girl. I one night caught a glimpse of a mouse headed girl sitting through the hall and was delighted. I wonder if it was not you."

"It must have been."

"The lunger of that head has been with me for ten years. It caught my fancy and—"

Later he told me that it had caught his heart. So the dear lady got her wish after all.

KNEW A MAN FROM KENTUCKY BY WHAT HE HAD IN HIS POCKET.

Mr. George Bondurant, foreman of the woodworking department of the local I. O. O. F. hall, has returned from St. Louis where he had been taking in the fair.

Mr. Bondurant had many queer experiences in St. Louis and saw some remarkable things. "I went into no show," he explained, "in which colored parrots are exhibited. With me was another man from Kentucky and as we entered the keeper of the birds asked one of the parrots where my companion was from. The bird replied 'Kentucky.'"

"How do you know he's from Kentucky?" the keeper asked the bird.

"By his pocket" was the answer. "Everyone looked at my companion's pocket and protruding was the neck of a bottle. He became so rattled I had to take him out."

Last night about 8:15 o'clock the incoming passenger train on the N. O. road struck a cow at Ninth and Norton streets and killed her. The cow was knocked far off the right of way. The city ordinances prohibit cows running at large at night and the owner will probably have a hard time securing damages from the road because the cow was violating the law.

Use Shoffner's Sure Cure

The Great Tonic and Blood Purifier—Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Catarrh.

It is a trite and true saying that the "blood is the life." Now where does the blood come from? Everybody knows, or should know, that it comes from the nutritive elements extracted by the stomach from the food we eat. If the digestive organs do not perform their functions by reason of disease germs, there is no nutrition extracted, and the food might better be thrown in the dump to decay and breed germs in the open air than to remain in the stomach and become a rotten, putrid mass, as it naturally does if there is no digestion. No disease germ can live and find lodgment in a human body that uses the Shoffner's Sure Cure. Price $1.00

What People Say of the Shoffner's Sure Cure.

PADUCAH, KY., March 5, 1903.

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that I was a sufferer with indigestion for five years and could get no relief until I bought one bottle of Shoffner's Sure Cure, and it helped me so much that I took six bottles, and I have cured me sound and well, thanks to the Shoffner's Sure Cure.

MRS. JOHN SMITH, 806 S. Third St.

This is to certify that I believe the Shoffner's Sure Cure saved my life. I was not able to sit up in bed when I began taking the remedy. I had such a severe cough I thought I had consumption. Physicians had given me up to die. After taking one bottle I was able to sit up some. After using five bottles I was fully restored to health. I cannot say enough in favor of this wonderful remedy for indigestion.

MRS. STEPHEN GRAY, Moscow, Ky.

If after using one bottle according to directions you are not benefited, your money will be refunded.

8 CLUB LEAGUE

NOW TALKED OF

Indiana Towns Mentioned as Probable Members.

Vincennes Declines to Go Into the Central League—Makes Many Boats.

LOT OF BALL DOPE

You often have to go away from home for the news. A Vincennes letter to the Henderson Gleaner says: "Vincennes, by taking eleven out of fourteen games played, left the fall end of the percentage column and is now in fifth place, with good prospects of going into third position within the next ten days. As the team returns next week for the two weeks of home games, there is a chance to overhaul the leaders."

"Each team in the league last week deposited with the secretary an additional $100 as a guarantee that it would finish the season. As all clubs are making expenses with the aid of the crowds at Vincennes, there is no reason to believe the season will not be finished by all clubs. Vincennes has held up several teams in the league during the season and has drawn much larger crowds than the other clubs. At Snoddy's exhibition between Washington and Linton there were 2,288 paid admissions and the average Sunday attendance is about 1,200. Week day games are drawing from 300 to 600 people."

"The club turned down the opportunity of taking Peoria's place in the Central League. "Efforts are being made to get Evansville and Nashville into next season's circuit and it is more than likely that Evansville will be taken, but Nashville is too far away. "Plans are now on foot to organize a league next season that will include Terre Haute, Danville, Evansville, Vincennes, Paducah and Henderson, and perhaps Clarksville and Cairo. Whether or not these plans will work remains to be seen, but it is almost a certainty that a change in the Kitty circuit will come and it will be for the better."
